

I request that the FCC NOT implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

I am now rarely interrupted by unrequested solcitations - a freedom I very much appreciate and enjoy. Unrequested telephone solicitations are annoying and, to my mind, a violation of my basic freedoms.

Indiana's law has been quite effective in my case: I used to receive 10 - 12 calls per week, now I only receive 2 or 3.
